January 24, 1997 LB 21

a little disgruntled also. And they were upsetting the older lady. So, with about two days work and...through my office and with the Department of Motor Vehicles, we finally got the lady an identification. It worked, and she was just happy as she could be. You know, and Senator Kristensen talks about, you know, young people will be able to use this, forge them to get...to buy alcohol and so on and so forth, yeah. Now, this lady could drink, but...no, no. (Laughter). But you could...you can...young people are going to find a way to forge anything, I don't care what it is, but I...I'm going to support Senator Cudaback's bill. I think it's a good one. There are people out there that desperately do need some type of identification, and it seems to me that through the county treasurer, if I read the bill right, that is where they'll be able to get this now. And the county treasurer will probably know the people better in a smaller community than the drivers license bureau would. Thank you.

PRESIDENT ROBAK: Thank you, Senator Janssen. Is there any further discussion on the advancement of LB 21? Seeing none. Senator Cudaback to close.

SENATOR CUDABACK: Madam President, members. With testimony like Senator Janssen's, you can't hardly go wrong. Senator Kristensen is exactly right. You know, is this a fundamental right we have or is it a nice thing? Is it a privilege or whatever? But he's exactly right. Fifty years ago I'm not sure how many people had IDs in their pocket. Over the years, the name Cudaback has been spelled 19 different ways in about the last 75 years. You walked into a courthouse, you said, Cudaback. They might spell it C-U-D-A-B-E-C-K, they might spell it C-U-D-E-A-C-K, many different ways. But not in the service, they used to call me...well, I won't tell you what they called me, for lack of incrimination, but...anyway. He's exactly right, and I hope we visited this last time on this particular issue. I want to point out that we did have a rare occasion this morning. We had Senator Coordsen stand up and say he...I won't say he made a mistake, but he did kind of say...refer to the fact that it wasn't the best bill. So, we don't see that very often on the floor, and I say I want to thank Senator Coordsen for saying that, hey, it didn't work out, so we'll alter it. And I think we all need to do that, including myself,
